Fire rages through stock exchange

Major damage to The Copenhagen's old stock Exchange as it goes up in flames!

One of Copenhagen's oldest buildings, became ablaze causing it to crash down. Some brave people went inside to save the priceless paintings from the burning building. Fire services were on the scene at 7.30am. The huge amount of scaffolding around the building made it significantly harder to tackle the flames, while the Bourse's copper roof was trapping the heat.
